Graphic Designer

jiyoungforbes@gmail.com

I am a well-organized person and a responsible team player. My education and work experience in Graphic Design has enabled me to develop my understanding of design principles, artistic elements, printing process, and various computer software programs.

A Bachelor of Fine Arts has provided me with a strong technical base to compliment my artistic skills. You will find through my attached portfolio that I have recently polished some of these skills at the Emily Carr Design Essentials program.

I have been working as graphic designer for 10 years. I've managed all marketing materials such as designing all print marketing materials (logos, brand identity, packaging, brochures, greeting cards, zap banners), designed interfaces for web pages, social media posts, facebook ads, and email marketing for the company's featured product monthly.

I am self motivated and can manage working by myself on projects with efficiency, while handling time and pressure constraints well. I have also assisted and worked well with Art Directors and co-workers to achieve better workflow; managed overseas web developers and website designers to work on web projects and design creativities.

I believe that my artistic and design skills, partnered with my past experience and passion for design would make me an asset to your company.

Best Regards,

Jiyoung Forbes
